Trust in experience, focus, and expertise. Since Dodge & Cox was founded 90 years ago, our investment teams have managed through several serious world events, such as the crash of 1987, the dot-com bust, 9/11, the Iraq War, the Global Financial Crisis, and the H1N1 pandemic in 2009. All of them have taught us the importance of patience and persistence, which rewarded long-term investors when the turmoil subsided.

Shareholder News

To Our Shareholders: Dodge & Cox's investment teams are working diligently to evaluate investments in our funds and identify new opportunities, as we navigate the uncertain environment surrounding COVID-19. Times of uncertainty are when the rigor and selectivity of active management, as well as a long-term investment horizon, matter the most. Our long-tenured investment teams have experience managing through difficult periods before. Above all, our firm's founding mission remains the same: serving our clients well over the long-term by preserving and enhancing the purchasing power of their assets without taking imprudent risk.
